

Water District Election Next Wednesday

Next Wednesday is election day in the La Mesa, Lemon Grove and Spring Valley Irrigation District.

Three directors and a treasurer and assessor-collector are to be elected.

Directors Jack Schrade of El Cajon, and James Levikov of Grossmont, are candidates to succeed themselves, without opposition.

In Lemon Grove Wm. H. West, who has represented this Division for many years, is not a candidate for re-election, and therefore the position is wide open.

Four candidates have entered the field to succeed him.

They are:
Jackson Ammons, 3511 Citrus, real estate broker with offices at 8311 Imperial.
Harry Griffen, 8305 Alton.

Directorship on the La Mesa, Lemon Grove and Spring Valley Irrigation District board is one of the most important elective offices which the people of Lemon Grove are called upon to fill.

Every resident has a vital interest in water, and this water company is their property, and it is the duty of every citizen to vote at these elections.

They are the ones who select the men to conduct the business of this five million dollar concern, and they should take enough interest to select a man with whom they would trust their private business.

Get out and vote next Wednesday; see that your neighbor does likewise.

Hi, Neighbor

by Mae Rex Graham

Community service is the rent we pay for the space we occupy upon this earth.

If there ever was a place where "bread cast upon the water" returns it is in community service.

In other words, it is simply making your community a better place in which to live—for you, your family and friends.

Opportunities for service are open on every hand—through the churches, schools, Chamber of Commerce, service clubs, women's clubs, Parent-Teacher Associations, and youth organizations.

We hold up our hands in horror every time any of our local youth get in trouble.

This past week has given evidence that some concerted action must be taken to direct the leisure time of local boys and girls who have no other place but to congregate on the streets.

Other communities have solved the problem by establishing a Boy's Club and a Girl's Club.

This obligation should not have to fall entirely on service clubs or a few individuals, although the service clubs could take the lead.

There are greater menaces to our young people than polio, or other diseases.

Just as one person afflicted with a communicable disease endangers every person with whom he comes in contact, so does every moral pervert become a danger to society. We must use every effort to prevent delinquency going to that extreme.

Right now is the time to use the ounce of precaution. May we make the suggestion to parents, with only the kindest of intentions, that they know where their boys and girls are spending their evenings and time after school.

They are all so precious—no matter where they live, rich or poor; in our great America they must be given every opportunity to grow up to be useful citizens with high ideals, and a sense of the privilege and responsibilities of living in a free country.

Retiring Director Tells of District Water Problems

Wm. H. West of Lemon Grove, who has served as a director of the La Mesa, Lemon Grove and Spring Valley Irrigation District for the past 24 years, has given the Review the following outline of the water problems of the District:

"It has been my privilege and pleasure to serve as director of the La Mesa, Lemon Grove and Spring Valley Irrigation District for over 24 years. I think the time has arrived when I should be replaced by someone just as competent, if not better, than myself.

"There are many reasons why we should give consideration to electing the most experienced business executive to that office. First, over a million dollars a year is received from ourselves as water receipts and assessments. A similar sum is expended to pay for bond interest and operating charges incurred by the district. To take care of the water requirements of 50,000 population calls for a continuation of present efficient management and team work on the part of the directors:

"Another problem in which we should be interested is: How long are we going to require each small section of the District to solve its own sanitary problems, its fire districts, its school requirements, its zoning ordinances, etc., and make the Irrigation District one efficient municipality instead of the split sections we now have? If such a plan is ever proposed and endorsed by the people in the District, in that event, the Board of Directors must play the leading part.

"Owing to the shortage of water one cannot say too much about enlarging the boundaries of the district, but it is a problem for the future, when and if more water is available; and the terms and conditions of inclusion are fixed by the directors.

"The building of the Chet Harritt storage dam is a necessity which will have to be considered in the near future. The cost will be much over a million dollars, but must be built if we are to be supplied with water when needed.

"Will not trespass on your space indulgences any further except to say that I endorsed the nomination papers of Harry Griffen."—Wm. H. West.

Two Incendiary Fires Sunday

Two fires of incendiary origin were started in Lemon Grove Sunday, according to the Sheriff's office.

One at Francis Brother Rug Co., 3545 Massachusetts, was discovered by the owners, Charles Munn and Earl Jenner, Jr., before much damage was done.

The other, at Lemon Grove Supply Co., 7387 Broadway, gained more headway, and the La Mesa branch of the Forestry Department was called to put out the blaze. Two fires were started at this place, one in the office and another in the wash room.

Damage estimated at $2,000 to the building and $500 to equipment resulted.

Purglars had taken about $5 from a cash register and piled papers in the drawer of a filing cabinet and set fire to them.

At Francis Brothers the miscreants had started a fire in the middle of the floor, but lack of air stifled combustion. The damage, however, was estimated at between $500 and $1,000.

Twenty dollars was taken from the cash box.

Sheriff's deputies attribute both fires and burglaries to the same parties.

Other Burglaries

Two boys entered Friendship Hall at 5 a. m. Monday morning after a night at Tia Juana and took six cases of Coca Cola and six cases of other pop belonging to the Business Women's League.

One of the boys was apprehended and implicated the other, according to Sheriff's office reports.

First General Store Served Ranchers for Many Miles

The old frame building on Pacific avenue just back of the Lemon Grove Shopping Center, which is being torn down, brings back memories of early day merchandising in Lemon Grove.

Lemon Grove's first store was located on the same site as the present Shopping Center, and was operated by Frank E. Lyon.

One night in 1905 the store burned to the ground, destroying its contents. This left the ranchers in this locality no place to shop closer than La Mesa, over the hill, so Milton W. Mason decided to open a grocery store. There was no place available, at the time except an old house which stood just to the north of the burned store building.

He rented that and moved a small stock of staples into the front room and opened up for business. Soon the quarters became too small and J. C. Braiden, who lived in a house located where the Lindley Drug Store

Campaign on to Get Every One Registered

After the last general election, a check revealed that less than half of the parents of Lemon Grove School District were registered voters. Today our schools are vitally concerned that our children understand the responsibilities of good citizenship, and the privilege of voting in the United States is stressed in all classes as an outstanding feature of this great democracy.

To maintain our freedom and liberties, it is important that all young Americans realize the great power of the ballot. When boys and girls see parents exercising this privilege of voting, they become even more conscious of its significance.

In an effort to stress civic responsibility and to render a service to our community, the Lemon Grove District Teachers' Association, the three P.T.A. associations, and the junior high school pupils are conducting an "Every Parent a Registered Voter" campaign. California law requires that a citizen be a resident of this state for a period of at least one year, be a resident of the County 90 days, and have resided in the precinct 34 days.

During the week from Wednesday, January 31, through Wednesday, February 7, all those who are now eligible to vote may register here at Lemon Grove. Deputy Registrars will be at Lemon Grove School on Lincoln Street in Room 11 from January 31 through February 7, on school days only, from 10:00 a. m. until 2:00 p. m. For the convenience of those parents who work during the day, the registrars will be at the same school on Tuesday, February 6, from 4:30 until 7:30 p. m. On Saturday, February 3, citizens may register in the Lemon Grove Business District in the Post Office Block from 9:30 a. m. to 12:00 noon.

Bulletins giving full information on the campaign were sent home to all parents on Tuesday, from the office of Byron L. Netzel, school superintendent. Mothers and fathers have been urged to help the Deputy Registrars process registrations by completing the blanks on the lower portion of the bulletins, which concern convenient times and places, and returning them immediately to the schools.

For those people who are unable to register at the scheduled time, special arrangements have been made for registering them at home. They can complete these arrangements by calling Mrs. James Mulder at H 8-8013; Mrs. Chan Mason, H 6-5273; Mrs. Don Ellis, H 6-8629; Mrs. J. E. Loustail, H 6-6253; or Mrs. T. A. Kerton, H 6-9470.

GOP Appointments Urged

PRESIDENT TRUMAN isn't likely to move on it, but some of his genuine well-wishers have been dropping discreet hints that the most important thing he can do to bring about national unity is to appoint two top Republicans to his cabinet—including possibly Governor Dewey as secretary of state.

Most unfortunate difficulty about the current bickering over foreign policy is the reaction abroad. All over Europe there has been indecision and dismay. The recent foreign-policy controversies came on top of the Korean disaster, also on top of the President's music-critic letter, both of which increased lack of confidence among our allies.

Most people don't realize it, but the music-critic letter was published all the way from Africa to Norway. To the man in the street it may have been humorous, but to the prime ministers and foreign ministers of Europe, it aroused fear that the head of the United States government might lose his temper, not merely over a music critic but over a potential enemy, and plunge the world into war.

For these and other reasons, some of the top Democrats in Washington ardently hope for more unity, even if it means surrounding the President with a few Republicans.

They recall how President Roosevelt increased unity before Pearl Harbor by bringing two leading Republicans—Henry L. Stimson and Frank Knox—into his cabinet as secretary of war and secretary of the navy. And while there is not too much personal enthusiasm about Governor Dewey in Democratic circles, he is recognized as a man of real ability and deep sincerity as far as his country is concerned.

Furthermore, it is believed that Secretary of State Acheson would be glad to bow out in favor of Dewey in the interest of national unity. Acheson and Dewey have been conferring privately for the last six months, and several times Dewey has come to Acheson's support. Finally Acheson had privately hoped to leave the state department, though he does not want to do so under fire.

Naval Comeback

It was just about a year ago the most harassed and criticized man in Washington was Secretary of the Navy Francis Matthews.

At that time, the admirals were up in arms over unification and one admiral had to be relieved. Captain Crommelin was campaigning for a super airplane carrier. A secret propaganda agency in the navy was shooting out malice against the air forces. And Matthews was branded as a freshwater executive from Omaha whose knowledge of shipping was confined to mud scows on the Missouri river.

However, the political pendulum has a habit of swinging into Washington, and today Matthews is riding the crest of the wave.

Secret of his comeback was keeping quiet, being a good sport and working closely with the efficient new executive whom he picked to be chief of naval operations—Adm. Forrest Sherman.

Today the navy has scored some real triumphs in the Korean War, especially the evacuation of Hungnam where not a single life was lost. And the much-debated super airplane carrier which the navy so much wanted is to be built after all.

Note — Admiral Sherman, who was Matthews' personal choice to be chief of naval operations, has been so fair with the army and air force that, if General Bradley should be promoted to become white house chief of staff, Sherman would probably succeed him as chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

Morse Says No

During every recent election, Wayne Morse, the Independent, pro-labor senator from Oregon, has walked out into the political arena to make speeches for his conservative anti-labor GOP colleagues. No matter how much Morse disagreed with those colleagues, he rallied to their support at election time—even making a speech against his close friend, Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, in favor of the Chicago Tribune's candidate, Curley Brooks.

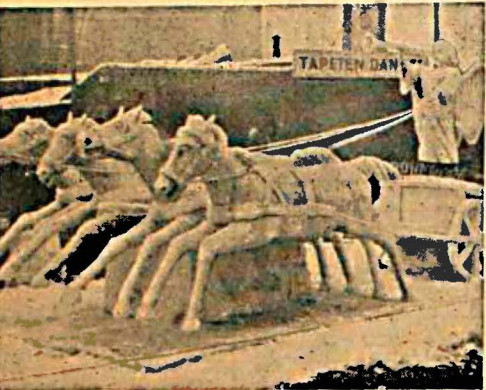

Now, however, Morse says "no more."

"They need not think they can get me to campaign all around the country for reactionary candidates," he told friends, "and then discipline me in the Republican conference by not putting me on the policy committee. I've supported my last reactionary Republican and they can lump it."

When the new policy committee was announced at a closed-door caucus, North Dakota's Sen. Bill Langer snorted: "I protest this kind of a committee with no progressives on it."

The scene of the meet was Northampton, England, where the rest of the crowd seems to be oblivious to the presence of royalty.

COLD PEACE IN A COLD WAR AREA . . . This angel of peace driving a four-horse chariot is a big attraction in Stuttgart, Germany. It is carved from packed snow, and it is the work of sculptor Hans Edelbauer who used six truckloads of snow to do the job. It took him four days. The burghers of Stuttgart hope it will be a good omen for 1951. The citizens hope that it won't melt away with the first warm days, as the new peace hopes have faded.

JOHN L. IS 'AGIN IT' . . . John L. Lewis chats with government wage board chief Cyrus Ching (left). Lewis told newsmen that he is strongly opposed to any wage freeze and said there is no need to put the American economy in limbo. While he was criticizing the idea of controls, other prominent figures were demanding them.

PREMIER WARDS OFF QUESTIONS . . . Prime Minister Alcide de Gasperi of Italy looks as if he might be conducting a band, but actually he is putting the quietest on reporters who fired a barrage of questions as the premier arrived for a cabinet meeting. The meeting was to discuss Italy's rearmament program. Several Italian divisions are to go into the international army under General Eisenhower as Atlantic Pact nations build up for the defense of western Europe.

Historical Expediency

FOR NEARLY 100 YEARS the established foreign policy of the United States as applied to the far east, under both Republican and Democratic administrations, was to recognize and support whatever was the established government of China, whether it was good or bad. We considered it the government of the Chinese people. That was true of the decidedly bad government of the old dowager empress, and we assisted in her defense against the Boxer uprising, for which we did not ask and, in fact, refused to accept any compensation when offered.

When Japan invaded Manchuria, President Hoover urgently appealed to the League of Nations for protection against the aggression. Because of the inability of the League to provide a force for such a purpose, that appeal was in vain. We loudly proclaimed the Atlantic Charter and at Casa Bianca assured China that under its provisions we would see that Manchuria was returned to her at the close of the war with Japan.

Despite such promises, we passed over to Russia some Chinese territory, including the ports and railroads of Manchuria, without telling China we had violated our promises to her. We permitted the division of Korea and withdrew our troops from South Korea before that small nation was in a position to defend itself from Communist aggression.

When China, under the government of Chiang Kai Shek was fighting both the Japs and the Communists, President Roosevelt sent General Patrick J. Hurley to China to investigate and report. Hurley claimed he found numerous advocates and friends of Communism among the personnel of the state department serving in China and sent two of them home, and issued reprimands to others.

Then came General Marshall who proposed that Chiang admit to his government a number of the Communists as constituting a majority in his government. Chiang refused to consider that proposal. Marshall was followed by Gen. Weidmeyer. President Truman asking that he investigate and report. That report, whatever it may have been, is buried in the files of the state department, and the American people have not been permitted to know its content.

China with a population of some 700,000,000 represents several times the population of Russia. In both man power and natural resources, she has a tremendous war potential. The efforts of the state department of the past have been to prevent that war potential from falling into the hands of what might prove an enemy of the United States. Either through errors in judgment, or by intent, it would seem, the present state department has done much to accomplish what its predecessors worked many years to prevent.

Congress has appropriated considerable sums to assist the Chiang government. Through the activities of the state department, much of such appropriation failed to reach Chiang.

In this country some of those charged with favoring the Chinese communists have been convicted by the courts and are now serving prison sentences. Under such conditions, it is small wonder that the American people have lost what confidence they may have had in Secretary Acheson and the department he heads. Directly and indirectly his efforts have been in the direction of appeasing Moscow, without regard to the effect on this country. The action of President Truman in defending South Korea from Communist aggression met with practically universal approval, but the actions of Secretary Acheson, whether the result of bad judgment, or worse, have been as universally disapproved.

In such differences as have arisen between Secretary Acheson and General MacArthur, the people have almost unanimously approved MacArthur. A change is in order, and now we want a state department that will represent the interests of America, rather than those of Moscow, whether they be errors of judgment, or worse.

At the Republican convention in Chicago in 1944, Governor Warren was urged by some of his California friends to refuse second place on the ticket with Governor Dewey, with the assurance that if he refused he would have top place in 1948. It did not work out that way, but possibly the date was merely deferred for four years to 1952. It looks that way now, unless General Eisenhower should decide to tell the Republicans he will accept if the nomination is tendered him next year.

CLEM WHITAKER, Jr.

Fifty minutes behind a scheduled 10:00 p. m. closing, California's hard-driving Legislature recessed Tuesday, January 23, until March 12, leaving behind an all-time record of bill submitted.

In less than a month's time, the solons provided 5167 bills for the legislative mill, 26 Joint Resolutions, 56 Concurrent Resolutions, and 71 proposed Constitutional Amendments. Subjects ran the gamut from birthday greetings to General Douglas MacArthur to repeal of Daylight Saving time.

A look at the record since 1935 shows that the business of governing California-of-the-rocketing-population takes more and more bills. In 1935, 3636 bills were dumped into the legislative hopper; in 1937, 4092; in 1939, 4175; in 1941, 4012; in wartime, 1943, 3131; in 1945, 3540; in post-war 1947, 4318; and in 1949, 4849.

Capitol observers predict that by all signs, when the Legislature re-convenes in March, there'll be a hot time in Sacramento. Such items as a $500,000 soldier bonus (opposed by all major veteran groups) financed by a 2 cent cigarette tax is certain to provoke a scuffle.

Senator George Hatfield's bill to outlaw hot cargo strikes and secondary boycotts, set labor's hair on edge when first mentioned and the unions will be after it hammer-and-tong come March. The Governor's budget is in for rough sledding, too. On one hand, Legislative Auditor A. Alan Post, in a 542 page report, has outlined slashes amounting to $21,695,000. Senator Ben Hulse, Chairman of the powerful Interim Committee on State and local taxation, states that his committee will stand adamant against any new revenue measures.

On the spending side, a five per cent, $3,500,000 salary boost has been voted the State's some 53,000 employees. Also in addition to the half billion veterans bonus bill, a two cent cigarette tax is proposed for an additional $50,500,000 school program.

Assemblyman Richard J. Dolwig proposes a half billion dollar bond issue for grade separation projects. Senator Collier proposes a one billion dollar highway construction bond issue which calls for increased gas and diesel taxes. Other hot, highly-controversial issues are bills calling for standby State rent control, liberalization of workmen's compensation and unemployment insurance benefits. Compulsory health insurance is up again, the Governor wants a new crime commission, a five-year moratorium on capital punishment is on the agenda, and so it goes.

By and large, as they started the trek for home, the legislators left the impression that any measure calling for new taxes or increased expenses would face stiff opposition on their return. One determined band even gave gunpoint from birthday greetings to General Douglas MacArthur to repeal of Daylight Saving time.

FROM THE NEWS CIRCUIT
JAMES DORAIS

It has become quite clear that to many politicians "national defense" means a great deal more than building the country's military might to meet the threat of aggression from without.

To some, at least, of the more devoted and patient advocates of change - for - the - sake - of - change, national emergency is a heaven-sent opportunity. Since the end of the war, they have protested each piecemeal lifting of government controls bitterly; now that the realization that world peace has been only an uneasy truce has brought about near unanimous agreement that controls are again a necessity, what could be sweeter—for the planners who believe in controls on a permanent basis? The schemes that the planners have had poor luck selling in the last few years are suddenly merchantable again—in the name of national defense.

The totally discredited Brannan farm plan is trotted out again as a defense necessity. The development of public power, essentially a socialistic program—is presented as an absolute must to build the Nation's strength in a world fearful of aggression by the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

A Fair Employment Practices Commission is once more on the planners' agenda—this time as a defense item. Similarly, agitation for compulsory health insurance is underscored with the new defense twist.

It was inevitable that in the long-standing controversy between the States and the Federal Government over ownership of the tidelands, the big-government advocates should inject the war-emergency into the argument. Sure enough, legislation has been introduced in Congress to grant the Federal Government "emergency authority" to administer the oil-rich off-shore lands.

"It is of the utmost importance," the bill's author stated, "that in the present international emergency authority be speedily granted to the Government to administer these lands. Petroleum is one of the two basic strategic materials for both industry and war—the other being steel."

The Senator didn't indicate if the next step would be to take over the steel industry.

Ever since a Supreme Court decision, two and one-half years ago, held that the Federal Government had "paramount authority" over the tidelands off California's coast — lands that California had believed its own since its admission as a State—the disposition of oil royalties from the tidelands has been at issue. To date, California has lost more than a quarter of a billion dollars pending the final outcome.

The dispute today, as it was at the time of the Supreme Court's controversial decision, is whether the State or the Federal Government will benefit from the landowner's share of the oil recovered from the lands. Federal control won't make one more barrel of oil available for the defense effort, any more than the Brannan Plan, socialized medicine or any other scheme promoted by the planners for centralized control would furnish one iota of aid or comfort to American troops in Korea.

Why Half Day Sessions at High

The question of half-day sessions at Grossmont Union High School has arisen in the minds of many citizens and parents.

Next year the entire high school must go on half-day sessions until such time as the new Helix High School will be ready for occupation.

Half-day sessions will eliminate study hall and will shorten the regular 53 minutes periods to 45 minutes.

These conditions will be forced upon Foothillers because Grossmont will graduate a senior class of 500 and add an entering freshman class of 900. Allowing for a few dropouts, the 1951-52 enrollment is estimated at 3200. In order to provide for 350 additional, a minimum of 8 classrooms would be needed. Since plans do not call for additional classroom space at Grossmont, some form of extended, half-day or staggered schedule must be faced.

Adding a period to the school day and staggering the schedule two periods instead of one as at present, gains 65 classroom periods which would be ample to take care of the increased enrollment. This does not alleviate the problem created by having all 3200 in school during 4 periods of the day. The pressure which now exists with 2950 students during periods 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 would be intensified by 3200 students present during periods 3, 4, 5, and 6. The 8 period staggered schedule has the same disadvantages as the half-day session but without the advantages.

The advantages of the half-day session organized on a two school basis are:

(1) It will permit moving into the Helix plant without disruption of teachers and pupil schedules. This plan can be ready before the end of the first semester. Parents are anxious to get the new school in operation as soon as possible.

(2) It will give the new school and its faculty a greater length of time to get organized.

(3) It will give more students opportunities in all activities.

(4) The plant will not have to accommodate more than 2000 at one time (6th period only) (1800 at other times).

Capitol and County News Letter

By RALPH R. CLOYED
Assemblyman

A bill-jammed Legislative session ended Tuesday. The Senate gave a vote at 10:45 p. m. and the Assembly quit six minutes later.

In the last few minutes the Assembly approved two bills. One makes money available for a two-step pay raise for State Employees in the lower brackets. The other bill provides one million five hundred dollars for flood damage repair. This money will be available for the county on a matching basis to repair damage by recent floods on the Northern part of the state on bridges, levees and highways.

These bills with the rest add up to a total of 5,165 bills introduced.

The session ended without a decision on whether the Legislature will approve the McLain pension scheme or pass it on for decision by the voters.

The Legislature, in its closing hours, gave the go ahead for construction of a five million five hundred thousand dollar building for the State Department of Motor Vehicles and a seven hundred thousand dollar office for the State Highway Patrol. The bills, S.B. 24 and S.B. 25 make the money available now instead of waiting for the fiscal year of July. The money was included in the next fiscal year budget.

Among the scores of last measures tossed into the hopper during the last 24 hours were:

A five hundred million dollar bond issue for a veterans' bonus financed by a cigarette tax.

A measure to prohibit hot cargo or secondary boycott in labor disputes.

A bill to repeal daylight saving time.

A constitutional provision to finance civil defense with State bonds.

A hundred million dollar bond issue for veterans' farm and home loans.

A constitutional amendment to issue five hundred million dollars worth of bonds for railroad grade separation.

Some law makers will be working during the 47-day recess. The Assembly Ways and Means Committee begins hearing on the one billion sixteen million dollar budget next Monday—the Senate Finance Committee a little later.

The only visitors seen in the halls of the Capitol this week were Paul Manning, manager of the San Diego County Fair, and Chafee Young of Escondido found a few minutes to visit the Legislature while on business for the County Fair.

NEW CELERY STRAINS TO BE DISCUSSED

Fifteen new and established strains of celery planted for the late harvest will be seen next Monday at the Jaekel and Rogers Ranch one mile south of Chula Vista on Highway 101 at 2:00 p. m. Results of the previous variety and fertilizer trials will be summarized. Celery growers are advised to compare their new celery strains with the ones now used suggests Hall.

ACCOUNTANT PROVES THAT FIGURES DO LIE

Because his robust appearance and athletic figure suggested ideal health, an accountant's family and fellow workers gave little sympathy to his querulous complaint of constant weariness and fatigue.

"But this is one case where figures definitely lied," the accountant said. "Though I looked the picture of health, I felt terrible—suffered from sleepless nights, lack of appetite and lacked normal stamina. Then, my friend, the pharmacist, told me how many doctors recommend the remarkable N.R.G. (Energy) Brand Vitamins!"

"Today, I feel as well as I look, the picture of health! I'm turning out twice the amount of work and still have pep and energy left over at the end of the day. And the best part of all, my regular schedule of N.R.G. (Energy) Brand Vitamins cost less per day than the price of a package of cigarettes!"

"If you suffer, too, from that weary, depressing 'fall gone' feeling, if you get up in the morning more tired than when you went to bed and have a poor appetite, visit friendly Hazlip's Pharmacy. Get on a regular schedule of resistance - building N.R.G. (Energy) Brand Vitamins, the remarkable potent vitamins that help you keep fit! It's health insurance at its best—and most economical. Bank Grows With Areas It Serves

Net earnings of $583,383 during 1950 were reported by the First National Trust and Savings Bank, Anderson Bothwick, president, told shareholders at their annual meeting. "This represented a slight increase compared with net income of $569,068 in 1949 and is equal to $3.24 a share on the common stock."

Capital funds were increased by $358,383 during 1950 and reached a year-end total of $6,196,038. Deposits rose to $105,552,498 on December 31—an all-time year-end high—and total resources reached $112,763,477.

Reflecting the growth and high rate of business activity in the San Diego area, bank debits at the First National edged close to the billion dollar mark at $933,807,552.

Commenting on the business outlook for 1951, Bothwick told the shareholders: "Deficit financing on a scale never before approached during a period short of all-out war will create serious fiscal problems and bring forth drastic efforts to curb inflation.

"However," he added, "this effort will ultimately fail to whatever extent it is predicated on a policy of dealing with effect rather than basic causes." Regarding the outlook for banking, Bothwick said:

"Banking is and will remain one of the most competitive types of business; it will face all of the problems of an economy distorted by either a limited or all-out war without the dubious benefits of inventory profits, a sellers' market or a particularly favored tax position."

"Under the swift impact of the present emergency, however, we recognize that the very future of the United States is in danger and it is our obligation and duty to contribute in every way possible to the requirements of a new and critical situation."

The First National had 367 officers and staff members at the end of the year, an increase of 25 during 1950, and the rate of turnover continued to decline. In his annual report, however, Bothwick said "a tightening manpower situation may become a major problem of financial institutions during coming months."

The summary of 1950 operations also showed: Loans increased from $21,900,357 on Dec-

Solleder Attends State College Conference

S. K. Solleder, director of education at Lemon Grove Schools, attended the Home-School Relationships Conference at San Diego State College on January 24, 25, and 26. This fifth annual conference was sponsored by the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, the California State Department of Education, and the College.

Educators at panel discussions emphasized the fact that in countries such as Germany and Russia, the schools stressed only the "Three R's," excluding other classes. The results of such teaching are evident to all of us today. American schools are aware that "No thought can exist unless it is free."

Means of encouraging more participation in P-T-A programs and ways to increase the benefits from parent-teacher conferences were also major topics of the conference.

Rural Education Conference

Teachers and administrators attended the Rural Education Conference at State College last Saturday. Dr. Ethel J. Alpenfels, associate professor of education at New York University, gave an excellent address urging the bringing of more parents into school activities as a means of meeting criticism and bringing understanding of school problems. Dr. C. Hardesty, county superintendent, stressed the value of education as one of the great exponents of democratic ideals. Attending from the Lemon Grove District were Ben Schei, Arthur Thomas, S. K. Solleder, Mrs. Loy Holmquist, and Mrs. Evelyn Lauritzen.

District Faculty Meeting

All members of the Lemon Grove School District faculty met for the second quarterly district meeting last Thursday evening in the Lemon Grove School cafeteria. Superintendent Nettley acted as chairman. Highlights on the agenda included discussion of the School District program and first aid training, and the "Every Parent a Registered Voter" campaign explained elsewhere in the Review.

Teachers Executive Board

The Executive Board of the Lemon Grove District Teachers Association met Monday evening, at Lemon Grove School, Room 11. Plans were made for the February 13 general meeting of the club. Board members attending were Mrs. Hazel Schwalm, club president, Mrs. Lucille Hunt, Mrs. Dorothy Kennedy, and Mrs. Margaret Darroch.

A special meeting of the Lemon Grove P-T-A Executive Board was held last Friday afternoon in Room 23. Further plans for the year were discussed.

were made for the Valentine Dance to be held at Friendship Hall on February 9. Mrs. T. A. Keeton, president, presided.

Members of the By Laws Committee of the Lemon Grove teachers group met at the school Monday evening to revise and amend the present club by-laws. Mrs. Hazel Mulkey, chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Evelyn Whalen and Ben Schei.

March of Dimes

All classes throughout the Lemon Grove School District are conducting campaigns for the March of Dimes during this week. Funds will be collected by tomorrow (Friday).

Russ Concert

Approximately 60 boys and girls from the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades of Lemon Grove Schools were privileged to attend the San Diego Orchestra's Youth Concert on Saturday morning at Russ Auditorium. Mrs. Ada Krimak, music instructor, accompanied the group, and was assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Ellis, Mrs. Virginia Robinson, Mrs. Wilma Cabral, and Mrs. Agnes Stark.

New Semester Begins

The new semester in all Lemon Grove Schools begins Monday. In the junior high, eighth grade students who studied science during the first semester under J. Moore, will begin art classes with Miss Elizabeth Robinson. Seventh graders have completed their art classes and will now begin science study. Report cards will be issued in the district during the week, February 5 through February 9.

This week the School Safety Patrol members of Lemon Grove School who will be honored by John van Gils at his Grove Theatre with a matinee on Saturday are: Willard Rigley, Roger Slagill, Buddy Coy, Gary Utt, Bill Cabral, Laird Hodge, Joe Cota, Keith Hall, Warren Hagen, and Robert Ellis.

Mrs. Mason's second grade children are finding their social studies unit on "The Bakery" very interesting. Besides studying an excellent motion picture, which described the story of bread from a beautiful field of wheat to the distribution of truck loads of bread to many markets, the children made a trip to Mrs. Conklin's Bakery to find out how 2200 loaves of bread are made daily. The children thanked Vera Hoff for taking time to help them to see and to understand the work of the big machines and the operation of the bakery, and they also thanked him for the cookies and cake given to them. Mothers who accompanied the class were Misses Greenlee, McClure, Cedarwall, Keeton, and Wright.

Interest is running high in many class activities. Committees are busy making posters and a bakery shop for arithmetic work. The class has learned songs, made drawings, and written stories about the bakery.

Here are some original stories:
"We had fun in the bakery. We had a big pretty cake. It was nice. We saw the big machines."
—Sandra Secor.
"I saw how the dough was mixed. They let me look in the oven. I like the bakery."
—Allen McCune.

"The bakery has cakes and cookies and pies and rolls. The bakery makes bread. It is good."
—Patricia McCoy.

The 7-2 class at the Lemon Grove junior high held a class meeting Friday during the third period. After a brief business meeting, Jack Sanders played "Star Spangled Banner" and a stirring march on the saxophone; Jack Pennig, trumpet; Jack Pinkerton, clarinet; and Jack Sanders, saxophone, as a trio played some popular tunes; and this same trio plus Monty Dickinson, gave a short play. Mrs. Evelyn Whalen, homeroom teacher of the group, sponsored the hour.

At a recent election of officers in Mr. Purves' sixth grade class, Dennis Tristram was elected president. He will serve for the month of February with Donna Berges, vice president; Linda Risher, secretary; Richard Henderson, room monitor; Jill Sonka, librarian.

High School News

Grossmont Union High School, in the fourth of a series of head teachers, features Miss Winifred King, biology instructor. Miss King has had a very interesting and unusual background. Her parents were missionaries in India, where their daughter was born. Having traveled back and forth from India to the United States alternately each five to seven years, Miss King received her grammar school and college education in both countries.

When asked of her most exciting experiences, Miss King replied that her immediate contact with cobra snakes was to say the least, "exciting." As she was reading in her mother's garden in India she heard a rustling on the gravel path. Being constantly alert because of the danger of poisonous snakes, she instantly discovered the cue of the sound. She wasn't surprised to find a cobra coming straight toward her feet and "thinking faster than I ever did" she raised her feet up and onto the bench while the cobra went underneath and into the bushes. "That was the closest I ever came to a cobra," she said.

At the present, Miss King devotes most of her time to biology in Grossmont, which she has been teaching since 1929. Her varied hobbies range from knitting and textile painting, to working in the zoo and first aid training. She specializes in her garden which consists mainly of tropical flowers. Her most recent project is the grafting of two fruit trees. When completed, each tree will bear seven different kinds of fruits. When speaking of her life she once commented "It is never boring."

One of the most important and intricate departments at Grossmont is the Math department headed by Miss Mildred Sawyer. Miss Sawyer is a native of Kansas City, Missouri. She attended Kansas City State College and did graduate work at Columbia University and U. S. C. She completed seven years of study earning a Bachelor of Arts and a Master's degree in mathematics.

and in mathematical education. Miss Sawyer has done a considerable amount of traveling within the United States, she annually visits her relatives in Missouri. Her hobbies include reading, music, writing and sewing.

Miss Sawyer is impressed by the ease in which students adjust themselves in large groups. The purpose of the Math Department is to acquaint the student with the various uses of math and to help them understand, appreciate, and prepare themselves for specific jobs in the future.

Grossmont High has one of the best organized Girls' Physical Education Departments in San Diego County. It has the largest department in the school, which consists of seven teachers, headed by Mrs. Vanales Field. The Rainy Day Program, which is in full swing during the wet weather of the winter months, originated this year and many San Diego County officials have been greatly impressed by it.

The program is composed of: ping pong with tables set up in the shower stalls; on the benches between the lockers, Chinese checkers, regular checkers, darts, and chess are played; progressive dancing, such as Lancers, Sir Roger de Coverly, and Virginia Reel are enjoyed in the arcade and social circle dancing in the recreation room.

Supervisors from San Diego are trying to interest other high school Physical Education Departments to utilize their facilities to their greatest capacities.

The building was dedicated in January 1948, with a small charter membership. Built by home missions funds, the church is now self-supporting and an established part of the community life. It is with real regret that we see them go. Mr. Hensley is to go on with graduate work at Butler University in the School of Religion.

Railroad Worker And His Family Praise Hadacol

Hadacol Supplies Vitamins B₁, B₂, Nicotin and Iron Which His System Lacked.

Railroad men all over the country are known for their extreme diligence and their wonderful sense of observation. Mr. G. E. Moncus, who has had three full years of fine service as a railroad flagman, is no exception. He is proud of the excellent job he is doing, and his observation powers are not limited to his job by any means. For instance, when Mr. Moncus noticed how much better his wife was beginning to feel, he decided he had better try the same thing. He, too, might feel better. Yes, Mr. Moncus started taking HADACOL and now he says, "I have lots of pep and energy and just feel good in every way." Mr. and Mrs. Moncus were suffering deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Nicotin and iron, which HADACOL contains.

Mr. Moncus says: "Quite some time ago I began to have indigestion and sour stomach. My food just didn't digest right. I'd get a full, gassy feeling after I ate. This affected my appetite and my weight. I was run-down, too. My wife started taking HADACOL and so did my daughter. I saw how much it had helped them, so I started taking it. And HADACOL has certainly helped me, too. My stomach never bothers me any more. I have a terrific appetite. I have lots of pep and energy and just feel good in every way. I think HADACOL is wonderful. I wish I could tell everyone just how wonderful it really is."

West Losses Threaten Rose Bowl

By GRANTLAND RICE

IF YOU TAKE enough punches, especially around the head, you are more than likely to get dizzy. This, apparently, is what has happened to Pacific Coast Conference football. Those five Big Nine victories—six if you care to include Alabama—have jolted the west coast off balance.

The first suggestion from the west coast presidents was to abolish the Rose Bowl game. Hooked with this startling idea were other suggestions such as playing the game soon after the regular season ended or having all-star teams from each conference play.

The latter suggestion doesn't make any sense at all. It would be merely an exhibition and would also conflict with the San Francisco Shrine Bowl, the finest charity football game.

The west coast presidents are in a tough spot. College presidents all over the map have been blamed for football's overemphasis, proselytizing, payment of cash, alumni uprisings, coaching troubles and various other ills and ailments that have attacked the game.

The stew over the coaching system at Southern California and Stanford, the heavy punting Lynn Waldorf took after his third straight defeat, all helped to stir up the presidents. They wanted to do something about the situation, but they could think up no way of punishing or curbing the alumni, where a big part of the trouble starts.

It is all well enough to say a college president should take a hand in handling the disturbance. But he can't very well be coach, athletic director, commissioner, alumni director and president at the same time.

It was a heavy shock to the west to discover that its famous Rose Bowl was in real danger. This would also include the midwest, since the Big Nine or Big Ten wouldn't work with the south or southwest, and the east is out of the picture.

This situation would leave future bowl games to the Cotton, Sugar, Orange, Gator, etc., unless the Pasadena committee arranged an outlaw affair, apart from any conference. That could happen.

What with the sanity code leaping back into the picture, this promises to be the busiest winter football has known, far away from the actual gridiron.

More about Notre Dame We ran recently into Jerry

Groom, Notre Dame's star center for the last three years. Jerry has been one of the best defensive centers in football since 1948 and Notre Dame is certain to miss his effective play next fall.

"We lose a good many men from our 1950 squad," Groom said, "and our replacements for this next fall will be uncertain. There will be at least six or seven regulars missing—possibly more—and our freshman squad this season wasn't any too strong."

The freshmen had several pretty good men, but no outstanding stars. Our substitute or reserve list was pretty thin this last season. This was one of the reasons for our bad year.

It might be mentioned here that Groom will be one of the missing stars who will be hard to replace.

"Fortunately we have an extremely able coaching staff," Jerry continued. "But again this staff has no idea how many men we lose before next fall. And Notre Dame right now is not in a position to lose many more. We are not as well fixed for material as many others are."

There is a question as to whether the platoon system can survive the lack of material in a war year. It has been proved that teams with two platoons have a big advantage over the single platoon, although Michigan had five men who played on both offense and defense.

"Notre Dame had to work this way most of the season," Groom said. "We had to meet too many fresh troops."

It is more than possible that football won't be important enough next fall to bother about.

Size of the Draft

Football and baseball, our two major sports, lined up with basketball, the biggest drawing sport, face heavy cuts in their playing strength for 1951. Just how heavy these cuts will be is still a matter of uncertainty.

But since a big part of the draft strikes at ages ranging from 19 to 23 or 24, you can see what the impact will be. I asked Bert Bell, pro football's commissioner, how hard his game would be hit.

"We were facing the finest crop in pro football history," Bert said. "Up to the draft I am afraid there won't be many left. I would say that at least 75 per cent of college stars graduating this spring will be taken. At least that many."

The student who has just graduated will be called before they still in college. A great many colleges have ROTC courses and those enrolled in these will be given a chance to finish their training. In any event they must leave college to enter the armed forces."

Yep, They Can!

Can fish smell? The answer in general is yes. Catfish come up the current after baits which give off odors, offensive at times; we chum for blues and other fish with chopped up menhaden, which undoubtedly give the fish the idea there is something good to eat from the smell. The Fisheries News Letter, from Sydney, Australia, September, 1950, reports two totally blind fish caught on hook and line; one was an 8 pound jewfish, the other a 1 1/2 pound cod; both fish were in excellent condition; they must have depended largely on their sense of smell.

Try It For "Size"

After you have decided upon what size model and caliber of the big game rifle you want to buy, try the gun "for size." A very simple test will enable you to judge the fit of the stock to your shoulder. Your trigger finger should just be able to curve over the trigger when the butt of the stock is placed in the crook of your elbow. Try the weapon also in shooting position to make sure the comb of the stock is high enough to reach your eye.

SPORTSMAN'S HORIZON

By JIM RHODY

'Bag-Worm' For Bream

Despite the fact that many anglers have been going a stream or fishing in lakes or ponds for years, they have not yet heard of the fish taking qualities of the "bag-worm."

The bag-worm, as its name implies, is a worm that lives in fuzzy-looking bags which are found on most cedar trees. Naturally, the worm feeds off the tree and does it no good, therefore, the angler searching for bag-worms will usually find any cedar tree owner whose trees are infested with the worms eager and willing for them to be taken.

The worm-sac may be pulled from the tree with comparative ease, but when time comes to use the worm, it is best to have a small pair of scissors handy to split the cocoon and get at the worm. Trying to get at the worm by opening the sac with the fingers is trying and sometimes painful work.

The worm, once freed from the sac and ready for use, is hooked onto the center of the body and may be fished either "on bottom" or with a cork.

Personally saw the effectiveness of this lure in a pond recently when two anglers, using this bait and none other, took dozens of bream weighing up to a pound—and these from a pond where the anglers and fly-rat anglers felt they had had a big day if they came up now and then with a half-pound bream.

We have had no word concerning their effectiveness on bass and haven't tried them as yet for this gamester.

Why Not?

Postage stamps have been issued commemorating just about everything—yet there never has been issued a stamp to center the public's attention on conservation of the country's natural resources.

This fact has been emphasized by Claude D. Kelley, president of the national wildlife federation. Kelley has called upon the nation's stamp collectors, sportsmen and conservationists to demand of their congressmen the issuance of such a stamp.

"Our natural resources have helped make this country the strongest nation on earth," Kelley declares, "and yet very little recognition to such towering strength and stability is depicted in our postage stamps."

Official criteria for postage stamps designs are supposed to be distinguished Americans or notable historic events, and even the barnyard rooster became eligible for a stamp issue, Kelley points out.

By any true measure, he adds, conservation deserves a stamp issue, and he calls upon the more than two million members of organized conservation groups to make their demands known.

Fur Prices Up

In a preliminary grade price list recently received from one of the country's leading fur buying companies, trappers of the nation can expect a great improvement in the fur market. This winter, says the North Dakota Game and Fish News. According to this list, prices will be higher and such furs as skunk, badger and raccoon are again salable. Based on actual sales in the world's fur markets during the last few weeks, it says muskrat No. 1 extra large raw furs of fine quality are bringing from $2.60 to $3.00. These prices range downward to around 65c to $1.50 for No. 2 lightweights. No. 1 extra large raccoon skins are bringing from $6.00 to $7.50. The remaining quotations are all for No. 1 extra large pelts of good quality: Red fox $3.50-$4; grey fox, $1.25-$1.50; skunk, $2.25-$2.50; badger, $9.25-$12.50; white tail jackals, $5.75 cents per lb.; and black tail jackals, 50-55 cents per pound. Skins grading No. 3, 4, or lower, or a kils damaged, etc., will be priced at value.

SHORT STORY

Take The Lead

By Sidney Du Boff

MISS PARISH drove her ancient automobile along the deserted highway toward home. Her deep satisfaction was justifiable in view of the successful play she had produced and directed that evening.

Nothing Broadway would care to see, but a huge triumph for the amateurs of Deep Valley High School.

Even Mr. Wilks, principal of Deep Valley High, who was never lavish in his praise had said, "Miss Parish, we are extremely proud to have you as a member of our faculty. I speak for the town as well as the school."

Now it was over, except for the party she was giving for the cast. Miss Parish applied pressure to the accelerator. Being detained at the theatre had made her late. She knew the car would already be arriving at her home.

As she rounded the sharp turn in the road she heard a sudden noise followed by a loud hiss. The car pitched from side to side almost running off the road. Miss Parish fought desperately to regain control. The automobile straightened itself out, gradually losing momentum. She brought it to a stop.

She emerged from the disabled automobile. It was too dark to see anything. She opened the trunk and lit a match. "No jack! Now what am I going to do?"

Miss Parish sat down on the running board. "I suppose I could walk back to town and get help... or I could stop a passing car—if there was one." She retained her position on the running board.

In the distance appeared a set of headlights. Miss Parish took a small handkerchief from her purse and waved it at the on-coming car. It slowed down somewhat, but then resumed its speed and disregarded the appeal for aid.

She waited for what seemed like a long time before another automobile came into sight. As one loomed near she waved her handkerchief hopefully. It came to a screeching halt alongside her own car.

"What seems to be the trouble, Miss?"

"I had a blow-out and I don't have a jack."

"Fear no more, my lady," a man said, getting out of his car. "I'm certain there is at least one around somewhere."

"You're a life saver."

"Wait a minute," the man said. "Come over here near the headlights."

She hesitated. "But, why..."

He took her arm, guiding her to where he could see her face.

"Roberta!" he cried out. "It's you!"

"Yes, Wayne."

"You recognized my voice—and you tried to keep me from knowing who you were—Why?"

"I explained all of that to you in the note I left," she said.

"Note nothing. I've been looking for you for six months. I was ready to notify the police."

"I'm in love with you, Roberta. I want to marry you," Wayne said.

"Because your success means too much to you... and to me."

"I can't have success without you, Roberta."

"You can't have it with me," she retorted, tears forming in her eyes. "The play you produced with me in the lead flopped. It flopped because I wasn't good enough for the part."

"It was a bad play, Roberta."

"No," she answered. "I'm the dramatic coach at Deep Valley High School. It doesn't pay as much as Broadway... but at least I can handle the part."

"Roberta, come back—"

"I belong here Wayne. Just as you belong on Broadway. We each have what we want,—or almost what we want. Now help me change the tire. I'm giving a party for my cast tonight."

Use Delicious Chewing Gum Laxative REMOVES WASTE NOT GOOD FOOD
 When you can't sleep—feel just awful because you need a laxative—do so without a doctor's prescription. You feel weak, tired.
 But gentle PINKET-A-MINT different! Taken as recommended, it works gently in the lower bowel—removes only waste, not good food! You avoid that weak feeling— you feel fine, full of life! Get PINKET-A-MINT, 25¢, 50¢, or only 10¢.

Effective Cough Syrup, Mixed at Home for Economy

No Cooking. No Work. Real Saving. Here's an old home mixture your mother probably used, and is still one of the most effective for coughs due to colds. Once tried, you'll never buy it.
 Make a syrup with 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup water. No cooking needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.
 Now put 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This makes a full pint of cough medicine, and gives you about four times as much for your money. It keeps perfectly and tastes fine.
 And you'll say it's really excellent for quick action. You can feel it take hold quickly. It loosens phlegm, soothes irritated membranes, helps clear the air passages. Thus it makes breathing easy and lets you get restful sleep.
 Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients. In concentrated form, well-known for its quick action on throat and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if not pleased in every case.

Girl Scout Annual Cookie Sale

Two hundred thousand boxes of Girl Scout Cookies is the goal for this year's cookie sale according to announcement made by Mrs. Dwight E. Keider, Cookie Chairman for San Diego. It is necessary to sell more cookies in order to acquire operating funds for Scout activities because Community Chest monies were reduced this year.

This is an increase of more than 25 percent over last year's sales. There are 7000 Girl Scouts in San Diego city and county and 2000 adult leaders.
All will participate in the 1951 cookie sale.

Cookie orders are being taken now and actual sales and deliveries will commence February 9. The cookie used this year is a vanilla wafer, the same as ones previously sold here by the Girl Scouts.

Girls will sell door to door as well as throughout all commercial areas of the county.
Thirteen prizes will be awarded champion cookie sellers; five prizes for an all expense camp at the Girl Scout summer camp; and eight prizes of 100 books of camp saving stamps. The five major prizes will go to the five girls selling the most cookies, while the remaining prizes will be awarded to the best salesgirl in each of the eight districts. No girl may win two prizes.

Parents Hear Talk on Arithmetic

The Lemon Grove P.T.A.
Child Study group held the second of its current series of meetings on the "Three R's" on Monday evening, in Mr. Purvis's sixth grade room. Mrs. J. E.
Rotsart, chairman, introduced Mrs. Evelyn Lauritzen, school principal, who presented the subject, "Arithmetic—Kindergarten through Eighth Grade," to parents and teachers present. She discussed the standings of Lemon Grove pupils in arithmetic fundamentals and reasoning, as determined by achievement tests, and also the arithmetic abilities of the students, as judged by the National Test average.

Mrs. Lauritzen stated that those weaknesses revealed through test programs are being abetted by classroom teachers.

The meeting room displayed attractive devices used in the teaching of arithmetic by Mrs.
Jansen, Mrs. Struhman, Mrs.
Rogers, and Mr. Purvis. Wall charts illustrated phases of arithmetic taught in all grades.

Next Monday evening at 7:30, the third meeting in the series will concern Reading as taught in our schools. Dr. Ballantine.

Heart Campaign Opens Today

"New Hope for Hearts" will keynote the 1951 Heart Fund campaign which opened in California today (Thursday), as announced by Dr. Charles Noble, Jr., president of the California Heart Association.

With this reassuring slogan, the month-long campaign will seek funds to help achieve new scientific advances and public health progress in combating heart disease, the leading cause of death and disability in the nation.

The campaign is part of the nationwide drive of the American Heart Association, with which the various local heart associations are affiliated. Public support is sought for a three-year program of research, education and community cardiac service essential to checking and controlling the cardiovascular diseases.

"The spirit of hope for new victories against heart disease, expressed in our 1951 Heart Fund slogan, inspires all of the volunteers we have enlisted in the past few weeks," it was stated by Dr. Noble. "They are ready and willing to conduct a successful campaign in California, with the feeling that growing public awareness of the heart disease problem will insure greater response than ever to their appeal."

Traveler Baker on Way Home

SS Surriento, Java Sea
January 13, 1951
Dear friends: Our trip of the last nine days has been the most pleasant I have ever taken, and more pleasant than I ever imagined a trip could be. I must call it ideal.

The second day out from Brisbane, Australia, we entered the passage between the Great Barrier Reef and the mainland. The reef extends for 1000 miles along the Northern half of the East coast of Australia from 30 to 70 miles off shore.

Inside of the reef are hundreds of beautiful coral and mountainous islands, all uninhabited. The sea behind the reef is smooth and placid like a lake.
After we reached the Northern tip of Australia, we turned westward across the Coral and Java Seas for 2000 miles.

Here the seas were just as gentle as behind the barrier reef.
As I am writing I can detect no motion in the ship.

The equatorial sunrises and sunsets have been magnificent.
We have passed hundreds of coral islands with beautiful coconut plantations. We have been close enough to shore to see the natives walking under the trees.

Twice a day we go swimming in the pool on the ship. The water is so warm that one does not feel the least chill.

Among all the passengers, I am the only American. This ship flies the Italian flag, the crew is entirely Italian, and so is the cooking. This is my first experience with Italian food and I rather enjoy it. Sincerely, Harold W. B. Baker.

to operate a hatchery and chicken ranch at the present location of the Mason Feed and Supply, continued the poultry business and entered the feed business, which he and his son, Channing now operate.

The postoffice was located in the Mason general store, and Mr.
Mason was the postmaster, with Mayme Lowry as his assistant.
Mr. Braden sold his property to Barker Barnett, who in turn sold the strip along Pacific avenue to Dr. Charles L. Good, San is the owner.

eral store and postoffice in 1907, and operated them with the help of his boys. In 1912, Dr. Good built a new building for the general store, and the Sonka's continued its operation at that site.
The old structure was moved to the rear and faced on Pacific, where it was used as a warehouse.

Following the death of Mr.
Sonka, the two older boys, J. E. and A. F. Sonka, took over the operation of the business.

In 1940 the postoffice was moved into a home of its own, in the building now occupied by Dr. Peter E. Shea and Dr. James C. W. White.

Sonka Brothers sold the business to Roy and Adlinder in 1945, who gave it the name of Lemon Grove Shopping Center.

Nothing Better Than Good Food, Says Ohio Man

If a man isn't able to eat the foods he likes he's in mighty trouble—imagine going through life without being able to enjoy a fine big platter of pasta and eggs. That is the way
Joseph N. Damillet, 3414 E
11th Street, Dayton, Ohio, used to be, but since he has been taking HADACOL, he says
"I feel just fine and is able to enjoy lots and lots of fine foods. Mr. Damillet found that taking HADACOL helped his system overcome a deficiency of Vitamin B₁₂, B₆, Nicotin and Iron.

Here is Mr. Damillet's statement: "My first bottle of HAD-ACOL convinced me that HAD-ACOL was what I needed for the cash at night. I could not keep food on my stomach, but after the first bottle
I was going great. Now I eat bacon and eggs, and other foods that never would stay with me.
I also can sleep well at nights.
Thanks to HADACOL I will never be without it, and can recommend it to all who suffer with the above ailments that I had. I know because I have suffered for quite some time."
